MANAGING RISK

Secret #6

Your money will fly away unless your agent pays closer attention to your Worker's Comp than any other insurance you buy.

Here's what your agent must do to insure you're not being overcharged:

- Claims need to be monitored.
- Premium audits must be managed and verified.
- Experience modifications must be double checked for accuracy.
- The contract must be analyzed.
- Sub-contractors' insurance must be controlled.

Many actions are time sensitive. If you don't know why six months after your policy expires is the most critical date, you may be overcharged for your insurance. If you need a specialist in any one area of your insurance programs, it is managing the insurance programs that affect your employees the most—Workers' Comp, medical and disability.

Contact a qualified agent to closely manage your Worker's Comp insurance and keep your costs under control!
